In August 2008, Brad Johnson first began communicating with a Syrian extraterrestrial entity called Adronis and has since communicated with other non-human entities, including Athena from the Inner Earth. Johnson employs a range of psychic tools to enhance his communication, while ensuring that no deceptive entities compromise his efforts, a common issue among many inexperienced channelers. In his first Exopolitics Today interview, Johnson describes his personal journey of communicating with Adronis and Athena, as well as the information he has gained over the years on a range of esoteric topics. Johnson explains that 12-strand DNA is something possessed by maha-avatars such as Babaji after much spiritual work, and that advanced technology, such as medbeds, is incapable of restoring/replicating 12-strand DNA in normal humans. Johnson explains that most extraterrestrials have 3 or 4-strand DNA, and this will be similar to much of humanity as we transform into a galactic society. Johnson has also learned that Canada, Greenland, and Mexico are destined to join the US in a North American Union over the next decade. In addition, he explains how many countries are going to experience widespread rebellions/revolutions over the next few years as the machinations of elite politicians are exposed. Finally, he discusses how plans to stage a fake alien invasion and salvation event have been overtaken by humanity's steady and gradual awakening to the Truth. DR. SALLA: Brad Olson has personal experience spanning three decades in metaphysics, inner development, psychic training, spirit communication and vibrational healing, rooted from ancient times. Brad is a living universal encyclopedia transmitting simplified ancient wisdom to help empower and enlighten the modern world and is here today on Exopolitics Today. Welcome Brad to the show.

BRAD: Thank you very much for having me. It's great to talk to you live in front of everybody. So I appreciate that and yes, looking forward to our conversation today.

DR. SALLA: Well, you have some very interesting information to share, but I think it'd be good if people just get to know a little bit about your background. What is it that you did, your early years, that you have any kind of unusual things happen during your youth and the kind of journey that took you to where you are today?

BRAD: Yes, I mean, I've always been a big fan of the ancient sciences when we're looking at numerology, astrology, looking at all the different sciences that we've culminated through the ancient times. And I've looked into a lot of my numerology and so forth. And it really is just everything that represents a master. Right? So basically I have like the 33 numerology, I have the six life path.

So, but this really started back in 2008. I was looking to write a science fiction novel about the real situation of what's unfolding with the extraterrestrial presence. I wanted to make it a really compelling story. And so I started talking to psychics, channelers, intuitives, healers, black ops community personnel as well too, who were quite conversational, a lot of their experiences.

And they would all tell me about what they've connected to ETs that they are very loving, intelligent beings, and that they believe in a one-infinite creator. And they're all here to try and help humanity to evolve. And this was something that was so new to me because I was basically in that kind of science fiction normy kind of mentality thinking that they're evil and they're all about trying to invade the Earth and so forth. And that's not at all what it's about.

And so I started doing meditation because they would say meditation is one of the things that you can use to start going within and start talking to a lot of these beings. And I was just so fascinated by it. I was so fascinated that I decided to put that book aside and start looking into inner development.

So I went out to my library, I grabbed a book called Learn How to Meditate, just your simple basic run-of-the-middle meditation book, read it from front cover to back cover within a few days, started doing a lot of the exercises that it suggested. And I started going into the astral realm. So I was actually going into meditation, deep meditation. I would go into these astral realms and they kind of looked like etheric mazes in a way.

And I would see these hovering crystal balls of energy and I'd actually touch them and I could actually physically feel it through my body. It's like a light electrical impulse. And what these represented through the mind was downloads. So I'd start getting downloads every single night waking up knowing things I didn't know before. So it's almost like I had like my memory kept in like these etheric mazes going into these crystal balls, touching them and actually feeling a surge of energy that was actually helping to activate certain centers within me.
So this just continued. And I got much more into channeling. I got much more into remote viewing. I got more into energy healing. I got into a akashic record reading. I got into astrology. I got into, I'm trying to remember all of them, ancient magic rituals as well too.
So I started looking into a facet of different ancient sciences and applied that to myself. And of course it was in December of 2008 where I met the being known as Adronis. And Adronis was not someone who I was seeking. I was basically just doing all these other types of things working with my channeling. And I had a friend who was also a channeler who said, well, Brad, I was tuning in tonight. And I felt that there was this being from Sirius that wants to get in touch with you.
I'm like, okay, that's interesting. So just go into your channeling state and see what you can discover with that. So basically what I did is I just went into my usual state, you get nice and calm, you get nice and centered, you stay nice and neutral. And I would take out my heart tether and I would attach that to the star of Sirius. So Sirius A in that way, and I just asked if there's any being here that wants to communicate with me, please feel free to share. I'm available and the flow immediately came.
So I just started doing automatic writing and he referred to himself as AdronIs from Sirius. “I'm a version of you 297 years in the future. I've come back at this time to assist you in your own spiritual evolution. And as you help yourself to evolve, others will evolve together with you, which means you're kind of taking people with you at the same time. Is this something that you want to do?”
And so I said, “Sure, absolutely.” But you know, with all this stuff that was happening, this was really like jam-packed over a span of about five or six months. And I needed to go out into my balcony and say, okay, I'm going to make sure I'm not going crazy here. And so much stuff is unfolding all at once. And so I would just go out to my balcony and I would say,

“If there's any ships in the vicinity, there's any allied ships that want to show themselves to me, I really just need to see that you're real so that this isn't in my head, that this isn't stuff I'm trying to make up. If there's anyone out there that wants to show themselves, please do.”

And a few seconds later, a star wiggled, literally wiggled right out of the sky and then just shot across the sky, lasting about 30 seconds. I actually got my ex-wife to come out into the balcony. She saw it at the same time. So it wasn't just me. And I'm like, I said that I was praying for that. I was intending for that. And she thought I lost my mind. But that's exactly what happened. I got that confirmation.

Once I had that confirmation, I never doubted it again. And I said, “That's it. That's all I needed.” And so everything that I received, I took very, very seriously. And so throughout that time of 2008, up into present day, I've just been continuing to build up and develop myself and expand myself in all the ways that I can, not only for my own development, but also being able to develop something simple that other people can utilize to help them.

And for 17 years, that's been my journey is helping tens of thousands of people over the world. I've done well over 10,000 readings with people on a daily basis from all over the world with any kind of problem that you can imagine, people who in that sense who have had extraterrestrial encounters, people who have had angelic encounters, people who have been able to go out with their body going on board ships.

I've had those kind of encounters myself as well, too. It's very, very different, though, from what we get on the internet. About 90% of the information can be flawed at times. So I basically just work together with my accumulation of data that I've gotten from my clients, but most importantly, a lot of my own inner wisdom for that. So like I said, I'm looking into a lot of the ancient sciences. And with that 17 years of knowledge, I'm currently building an ancient AI system that's based on….

DR. SALLA: Before we get to that, I think it'd be nice if you just kind of like just explain a little bit more about your own contacts, because I know people are very interested in extraterrestrial contact. And so what kind of experiences, direct experiences, that you have with extraterrestrials aside from seeing a ship appear when you ask for evidence?

BRAD: Yes, well, some of the other experiences I've had would go back to 2017. That's when I had the people that were known as Delphi. And so this was something that was, I wouldn't say it's a direct experience. I've never had a physical ET come up to me and say, “Hey, how's it going?” But what I've had is that I've actually had very, very deep, deep, lucid connections pertaining to the civilization that refers to themselves as the Delphi.

So they exist within the Inner Earth. They are part of an Inner Earth civilization that exists underneath the cross, so to speak, of Delphi Greece.

And they are now albino species. So they basically have pale red eyes, white skin complexion, very soft, soft light, blonde hair kind of whitish in that way. And they're kind of like a recluse type of civilization. They don't really go out beyond the borders of their own space, so to speak.

But they have been involved with humanity for going back a very, very long time, that they actually have a lot of influence relating to the ancient oracle of the Delphi as well too. So this is telling me that there was another civilization that connected with me.

And like I said, all I really did was I had this framed pyramid in my house back in 2017, had a large crystal on it. And I would sit inside that pyramid. And I was basically just intending for another new civilization to come together to make contact with me. And so they did.

Now, if I did have any particular physical extraterrestrial encounters, I didn't know it. I'm not saying that that's off the table. I probably have met quite a few people that could warrant that, but they're never really going to come up to admit, “Oh, hey, by the way, I'm an extraterrestrial.” I've met people who are walk-ins. I've met people in that sense who have told me all kinds of stuff about the connections to the planets that they've had and I've met them, but they will never really nonchalantly just say, “Oh, hey, I'm from another planet.”

So they could be. But that certainly wasn't my experience. And that wasn't something that was conscientious. And that's not really something that I was looking for. It's more about the idea of seeing exactly what is available to us on a conscious level, because we have this capability within ourselves. And that's what's led me to the work that I do.

DR. SALLA: Right. So with this Inner Earth civilization, a Delphi located under Greece itself, what comes to mind is I read a book by this Romanian, I guess, whistleblower, experiencer, by the name of Radu Cinamar, where he talks about these Inner Earth civilizations being located all over the Earth that under each major population center, there is an ancient civilization that is connected to that surface civilization in some way. He describes some in Romania. But it sounds like this Inner Earth civilization under Delphi is connected to the Greek or to that Delphi civilization going back many millennia.

BRAD: Yes. And that's probably why they came to me because I do have lifetimes in Greece. Right. When we look at Canada, though, there's not that many. But when we're looking at some places like the United States or again, in Greece or Romania, yes, there's a lot more I would say that there's actually a lot more concentration of ancient civilizations the further east that you go, rather than the west. Basically, if we look at the West, the closest that I could say is in California, where we look at the Telosians. Right. So there could be that.

Of course, the Indians, they have the Naga serpents as well too, that's a Patanjali was seen as a Naga. So that they have a lot of connections to that, even the dragon families as well too, would also have probably connections to the Naga, or even other dragon serpentine creatures as well too.

A lot of other connections that we could find in the West Coast here would actually be much more with the Sasquatch. So the Sasquatch particularly have a lot of different tribes going throughout the western coast areas of the United States and Canada as well too. So that would be the closest thing, but I wouldn't really call them an Inner Earth civilization, but much more interdimensional travelers, in between dimensions.

DR. SALLA: Right. So 2008 was the big turnaround year for you. You intended to write a sci-fi book and then you have this kind of communication with Adronis from Sirius. But before that, I mean, what was it that you were doing before that?

BRAD: I was not doing any of this work before that. This was the last thing in my mind. I had no interest in psychics. I had no interest in intuitives or remote viewing. All of this work didn't mean anything to me. And before that, I was doing marketing. Before that, I was doing filmmaking. I was screenwriting as well too. I was doing quite a few different things. I was also doing PC tech support.
So that was a lot of my stuff. If I'm going back into my younger years, a lot of what was acting in filmmaking, then I got into marketing in my early 20s and I started getting much more into PC tech support. And I started doing a little bit more screenwriting. I was also getting into video game design as well too. So a very, very different type of career before doing all this.
So really what this did is opened my heart to a whole new world. I had psychic premonitions when I was younger. I would be able to sense things that were about to happen. And then they did. But I never really took it into heart because I was raised as a Jehovah's Witness. If raised as Jehovah's Witness, you never look into that. That was demonism. You don't look into that. And I was very much discouraged if I ever said anything like that to the family. You don't go to the other statements. That's the devil and it's demonism and all that stuff.
So I was never into the idea of the psychic world. My mom would go to some psychics every now and then because she really secretly loved it, but she'd always stay very hush, hush with it. And I would just say, oh, it's a bunch of garbage. Except that was my mentality of it when I was a kid.
But it wasn't until age 29 back in 2008, where I just I shifted everything. It was like a Rubik's Cube. And I just shifted everything back into where all the patterns themselves now start to show the same color. So it was a very, very big situation. But yes, I was very psychic. I was very intuitive, but I didn't try to admit that because it was against my beliefs back then. And I had to really dissolve a lot of those beliefs. And as I did, the psychic premonition became stronger.
DR. SALLA: So you meet this Adronis in 2008. You have the automatic writing. So what about that automatic writing? I mean, how extensive was that? And I mean, was it ever released? And what did he say in that? I mean, you mentioned 290 years. What else did he say in that?

BRAD: There's pages that are for me. A lot of it was regarding my personal life and basically saying that the partner I was with was Karmic. It's something that went back many lifetimes. The children that I have as well too is old Karmic. Everything within this family has been unfinished business. And I had pages of that stuff, right? I didn't look too much into the global stuff that was happening at that time. It's more about my own personal life and how I needed to move on beyond it. So a lot of it was my personal life.

And just looking into things I didn't know that were that were basically correct. So I would basically just do it old school. I have a pen and paper and I just start writing things down in this journal. It's a simple notebook. And I'd have pages upon pages of all these different forms of challenge and discussions that I had with Adronis that was helping me to move on because I needed to basically put to rest a lot of these Karmic relationships I had if I wanted to move forward into the path that I did.

Now when I did that, I started looking into connecting with Adronis a lot more where he was talking about world events because he basically told about everything that's happening today. And he says that the best way he could summarize is that's a roller coaster. You know, if you really start to work on yourself, you're going on this roller coaster and you're enjoying the ride.

If you don't work on this roller coaster, you're going to feel like you're just you're flailing and you want to get off and you say you're going to have things where there's going to be disease will be rampant all across the planet. You're going to have the feelings where there's going to be money crises. There's people that are going to lose their minds because their governments are going to be shown for who they really are. There's going to be all kinds of upheavals that are going to take place. There's going to be new wars that are trying to happen. So I mean there's all kinds of different things that he basically did. He did it kind of in a nonchalant way. He didn't want to give away things because it doesn't really work that way when it comes to channeling. They're not going to tell you the specifics because the reason is because that's going to interrupt your karma. There's a collective karma that you need to go through on the planet and they're not going to tell you every single detail. It doesn't work that way through, all the things that I've gone through.

They're never going to give you a plain saying “Oh by the way in 2020 your world's going to shut down because of Corona virus.” No they won't say that, but they'll say that there's going to be a lot of disruptions in your collective consciousness during that time because a lot of things are not going to be made available for you. There's going to be a lot more limitations enforced upon you.
That's what they do. You can't just go in and start telling a person their karma before they have experienced that yet. That is against karma. That's against a universal law. You can't do it. So basically this is what they do.
They will give you little imprints. They'll give you breadcrumbs. You've got to try and figure it out. And so he'd be giving me breadcrumbs going all the way back to like the early 2010s. Talking about this time, about money situation going to be hard. Inflation is going to increase, all of these different things, but just doing it in a breadcrumb way.
You have to kind of put the pieces together because how they communicate with you is very right brain hemisphere. Right? So it's kind of like looking at a dream and trying to figure out exactly what it's trying to tell you. You've got to put the pieces together.
But yes, he's been talking about this time for a very long time. And it's been up to me to really try and put the pieces together because he won't do it. Right? “So this is for you. This is something that we can give you, but you have to put the pieces together.” And he said, “Okay, when we get to 2020s, it's going to be a very, very different decade. It's going to be something that's going to be a lot more shocking. There's going to be so much exposure everywhere.”
“When we get into the early 2030s, it's going to be very, very different too. When we get into 2030s, everything's going to be decentralized. You will have nothing on this planet that will be centralized. And you can mark my words on that. That in the early 2030s, everything is going to be rolling out in decentralization. Everything will be decentralized pretty much everything pertaining to man-made systems are going to start moving into new innovations of decentralization.”

You're going to have basically vehicles that will actually start taking to the air now. So that's going to become something that's a lot more popular. As far as extraterrestrial disclosure goes, I don't know if you want to talk about that now if you want to talk about that later.
DR. SALLA: Yes, I think it'd be good first to just kind of lay the groundwork for the information that you're sharing because a lot of people will want to know exactly how you got that information. You mentioned you began with Adronis through automatic writing, and then you've mentioned channeling. And there's also telepathic communications, which I believe you do with Athena. So you want to kind of like explain the differences between all of those?
BRAD: Yes, so we can look into that next. So firstly, when we look into channeling, here's the very first thing that's important. Number one, you have to test your entities. You don't just buy into what they're saying to you. You got to take them through an internal process.
And what that involves is you learning to go into your quiet state. So how is that done? You start working with something as simple as Pranayana. You start working together with the breath, where the exhales are longer than the inhales. That's exactly what I was taught because what this is doing is helping to calibrate your chakra network. It's helping to straighten your spine. It's keeping your equilibrium of energy together intact.
It's like you're creating an oval within your own body. And as you start to prepare yourself and get yourself into a state of calmness, which is necessary, then you start testing the entity, which means I start going into a state of neutrality. And I ask if that entity can go there. If it's a regressive entity, they can't do it.
They're not able to go into that neutral state. They're always just blistering with the idea of lies, manipulation, and so forth. It's like a fire energy. It's like trying to be able to try and become a fire. You can't. You have to snuff it out.
So basically going into that centering energy and you're working together with your own personal connection with the heart. So what that means is you're just aware of your breath. You're just following your breath. You're connecting with your breath and you're observing your breath to make sure it's very steady and it's very calm.
There's three ways that you know that you're in a subtle state of being.

Number one, your eyes are dilated. Number two, the saliva production in your mouth has increased. Number three, the tranquility of your breath. If you're able to go into those three particular realizations of what you're doing with your work, this is indicating a low idle or subtle state of being.
That is what you want to be into through phase one of checking with your entity. The second thing you want to do is you're now going beyond the breath and you're going directly into the stillness of the mind. Like I said, this takes practice. But as you go into that stillness of mind, you're basically in an expansive state. We're basically saying that you're touching the right hemisphere of the brain at that point. And then you're inviting that entity to join you in that alignment because you're much more sensitive with that entity and seeing if that entity can connect with you in that way. If they can't, most likely, are regressive.
Now, once you go into level two, then you're moving into the final part, which is level three, which is the all self, which means you're basically just staying in the sweet silence of surrender, which means we're going beyond the body. We're going beyond the breath. We're going beyond the mind.
Very similar to like what Ramana Maharshi would tell people about self-inquiry is when you're going into the state of who am I? And you're just with the I, right?
And through there, everything is just stillness, silence, and surrender. And then through that state, you're also just briefly inviting that entity to be in the stillness and the silence with you. Like I said, if it's a regressive. It can't do it. Right? So those are the three that I was raised for. And that's what Adronis basically taught me when I started channeling him is basically just going to stillness.
And here's the three phases of doing it and just keeping your breath nice and steady, keeping yourself nice and calm. And throughout the near 17 years that I've been channeling him, there was never a time where I was ever concerned or suspicious that he was regressive, because it never turned out to be that. His energy is just so large and so vast. There's no deception in it. And it's the funny thing is it's large and it's vast, but it's open and it's clear at the same time.
So a lot of people may ask, well, Brad, where do you get your information from? I said, why I get it from where you should be getting it from your own source? I don't care if you read a thousand books on the planet. None of those are the truth. I don't care if you look at every ancient science on the planet. None of those are the truth. Those are interpretations.

The only time you're ever going to look into the nature of your truth is when you're here in your center. That's where truth is, because truth does not come through words. Truth does not come through number. Truth does not come through image or thought. Truth simply is.
And when you're there, then everything pertaining to that expression comes together. So again, you have to see yourself as the internal library. And this is why we see this. So many experts in that sense will have these books and so forth. Okay, that's great. But that's not the truth, that's interpretation.
So when you're looking into the nature of truth, this is the only place to get it. So that's exactly what I've been focusing on for so many years. I mean, I've written books and so forth, but the whole important thing, and there's been people out there who've written great books, but the whole idea is still not the truth. Right? Even when we look at something like the Bible, it's beautiful, but it's not the truth. Right? It's interpretation. It's a guide book to helping you understand yourself.
DR. SALLA: Right? I think it's very important what you just said about finding that still point within the heart area, the stillness in the mind, and then the stillness in the greater, in the kind of like environmental, the greater whole around you. And that guarantees that no negative or regressive entities come through and that only beings that are in alignment with that kind of heart energy come through and like and reveal the truth or give you truthful information. So Adronis is one of those beings. And so he must have given you over the last 17 years quite a lot of information. I think you kind of shared a little bit about that and what we're going to be expecting in the rest of this decade, the 2030s and so forth.
BRAD: Well, we've been talking about he even talked about the spans as well too. Like 2016 to 2024 was a span of change. So that's made that's representing kind of like a lot of tremors within the collective consciousness that's helping us to open our minds to what's actually happening in the world. And of course, we've seen that through that span of those nine years. And now we're going into a new span 2025 to 2036. And that's the span of renewal. That's where we're very aware of what's going on right now. There's going to be a continual shake up and there's going to be a collapsing of old systems and new systems in its place that will move much more to decentralization.

DR. SALLA: Right. Yes. Yes. So some big changes. So we're in a new phase right now, according to Adronis. Has Adronis talked about? Well, I know he's talked about extraterrestrial because he's an extraterrestrial himself here. But has he talked about the different organizations? I mean, has he given you a roadmap or an idea about that.
BRAD: The one that he personally associates with the most is what's referred to as the Galactic Confederation of Planets. So the Galactic Confederation of Planets is one that actually been talked about in the Ra Material. Right. So basically, if you're looking at Ra and so forth, and Adronis will basically confirm a lot of the stuff that's in the Ra Material, The Law of One talks about because he says that is probably the most accurate channeling material on your planet is. You look at number one, the Ra Material and number two, the Seth material, that's it.
Those are your two holy grails by divine women, so to speak, then amen. So yes, he basically says there's over 300 civilizations that are part of the Galactic Confederation of Planets. Now he has an association with them. I can't say he's like in a member or anything on nature, but he says he associates with them in that way. And a lot of these 300 civilizations are basically contained within our galaxy. They're basically outer rim solar systems, or their outer rim planets in that sense. And they kind of go around the outer ring of the entire galaxy. So a lot of the internal stars that we see in our galaxy are beyond what we can understand as physical reality to even comprehend. But a lot of these particular federations or organizations or alliances that we see basically represent outer rim territories of our own galaxy.
DR. SALLA: Yes, I'd like you to maybe elaborate on the difference between say some of these galactic federations that tend to be more kind of military oriented, as opposed to the Galactic Confederation of Planets which is more emphasized as not military.

BRAD: It's not military. Exactly. It's not really associated with the military organizations because they're heavy in agenda. And they will basically be double crossers in many different ways. If it goes against their agenda, they will switch their alliances. And this has actually happened. You've had rogue Pleiadians, you've had rogue Draconians, you've had rogue Grays, you have Orion grays, you have Beetlejuice Grays, you have the Zeta Reticulae as well too. A lot of these beings are responsible for the technology that we have on the planet today.

So number one, the Grays, number two, the Draco, number three, a lot of different reptilian beings, Sirius B is also involved, Procyon is also involved, Antares is also involved, some connections to the Pleiades, some connections to Lyra. A lot of these beings basically are dangling a carrot in front of our governments and saying that you let us carry out with some of these experiments, we'll give you some of these sweet technologies.

And that's been happening since the early 1900s. So he agrees with all that stuff. That's very much documented. And that's very much what's been happening.

The Galactic Confederation of Planets though, basically started negotiations back in the early 19s, I think it was 40s or 50s, something around that nature. But they didn't have technology to offer. So this is why they're basically being ignored. They're trying to help uplift the civilization. And they didn't want anything to do with that. Offer us technology or we are out of here. So a lot of the technology that we have today is stone age technology compared to the E.T. races, not even really E.T.s. It's much more interdimensional than it is E.T. I'd say 90% of the technology we have are a result of interdimensional beings and maybe 10% is actually extraterrestrial.

Like they both exist. You have inter-dimensional, right? Some people can call them like the fourth dimensional beings or anything of that nature. And then you have ones that are E.T.s. And really about 10% of the technology we have today is E.T. because it's much more advanced and profound technology.

If we're looking at looking glass technology, that's Grays. That's Orion's right there and so a lot of that stuff has been brought forward. But it's kind of like they're giving to humanity in pieces. And you have to kind of put it together. Right? So they can't actually give you the technology at once. You have to kind of sort of though it's like a jigsaw puzzle.

And you have to put these pieces together to get an idea of how these particular types of devices work. They give them hints and then certain things. And they'll have specialists coming together. But it would be a karmic violation if they give something of a completely intact technology. They have to give them in pieces. And then they put these pieces together through their scientists.
That's why they spent trillions and trillions of these industry complexes to try and figure out exactly how these things work. Because they're not allowed to get the full piece. They have to put them together a jigsaw puzzle. Yes, a lot of regressive races that are the technology we use a lot from regressive races.
DR. SALLA: Well, I know that's something that there's been quite a few whistleblowers that have talked about the agreements between governments and these visiting extraterrestrial groups. Some more positive than others. Some very negative like the Draco and the Grays. But the more positive ones, I mean, they're associated with this Star Trek future. And I think this is where, because if you look at the Star Trek series as it was envisaged, I mean, that is a kind of military oriented organization.
You've got Starfleet and the admirals running it all. And it's like, well, is this Star Trek future is what the military wants? I know in 2019, there was a meeting at Peterson Air Force Base in Colorado where the people running the Air Force's space command actually said, a Star Trek future is what we want. And they're going to create it. And they're working with these positive extraterrestrials, human looking Nordics and the Galactic Federation of Worlds to bring that about.
And initially, I was very supportive of that. But now I'm kind of questioning that because I think that the spiritual information that comes from the Confederation of Planets is very, very important for us. If we just jump into this Star Trek future and like, okay, let's do the military stuff, build the big Starfleet and all of that, without developing our spiritual center, that connection to that heart stillness that you've been talking about, that we could easily be deceived or lost or destroy ourselves.

BRAD: Yes, exactly. The whole idea is that the Earth is a simulation, right? And it has a plan for us. Now, we certainly have some leeway as a collective to direct that plan, because we've actually averted a lot of horrifying timelines that would basically lead us into something like the Grays or the Zeta Reticuli pertaining to what we could do. Because basically, it's all just clone civilization losing the ability to reproduce unstoppable wars that could have happened upon the planet. The good news, a lot of that stuff has been averted. A lot of these “positive ETs”, though, aren't actually allies, they're us. Right? So when you're looking at the Nordics themselves, they're not even extraterrestrial. Those are probably the ones that are underground. Those are the ones where you can actually see their flying saucers coming out of the oceans. Right? So a lot of them Nordic races may claim to be allies, but they're not. They're actually very much interdimensional or in our intra-Earth, or you could go on to show what the term is, intraterranial in that way. So they basically have those connections. No, a lot of the civilizations that are Nordic that are extraterrestrial really have a hands off approach on Earth.

They really don't want to talk to the collective because they've already done that. And they will talk to groups of people. Right? So when you're going on board ships, and I've gotten some glimpses of being on the board, some of their ships, it's paradise. It's just something so harmonious and so wonderful. It just makes our beautiful Earth here look like nothing. Right?

So they have all kinds of healing technology. You can basically lay in a pod. You can go into suspended animation. You could be like an 80-year-old man. You come out looking like a 20-year-old. Right?

So they have all of these particular forms of technology, but not only that, they actually live synchronistically with life, which means everything just comes to them. There's normally no karma that is affecting them. They're basically a karmaless civilization.

And they will not really interact with a karma filled civilization. Right? So the ones that are basically interacting with all the governments and working with all this technology are the ones that are still trying to work out their own karma, because the ones that are karmaless will not touch you with a one-mile long pole. Right?

So they'll work with you. They'll go to a telepathic level.

This is what I say Adronis is supposed to do, is he'll work with us more indirectly. But they don't want to have that direct connection because that's karma. Right? So they will work together with that way as a hands off approach to prevent karma from actually coming upon them and yourself.
So the ones that are part of our government that want to Star Trek future, it's all karma. And can that be dissolved? Oh, yes. Yes, because it's all temporary. It's all idea. It's all conjecture.
And I don't think that though it'll be a better Star Trek future than what they're planning to do.
Humankind civilization is not going to be a militaristic complex. When we go into the stars, it's going to be very, very different because we're going to have mentors. We're actually going to have mentors that say, get out of that, because as long as you're staying like that, you'll never be able to leave your solar system. You will stay in your solar system until you get this militaristic nonsense out of your minds and get out of that, because we're going to keep you there until you do.
And if that takes a thousand years, so be it. So as far as humanity is going to go, they may be able to go into the star system, but that's it. They can't touch anywhere else until they rid that militaristic aspect.
And this is exactly what a lot of the higher beings will say. Say, we will not let humanity go, not pass the solar system until they get that militaristic nonsense karma out of them.
So there's a zero tolerance policy for this. This is why we're locked into the star system. This is kind of like it's a holding or it's a quarantine for humanity. That quarantine will remain until humanity grows the hell up.
DR. SALLA: So that quarantine, I mean, who's enforcing that? Is that the galactic...
BRAD: Those are the much higher dimensional beings that we don't really have a name for. They may basically be the idea that have associations with the creation of the human race, and the associations pertaining to this.
Now, this entire star system is primarily under insectoid jurisdiction.
Now, basically, if you look at the Oort cloud, you will actually find hundreds of Earth-like planets, perhaps even thousands, that are actually contained in the Oort cloud itself, that we're not able to discover because of so much of its radiation.

But there may be the technology ahead, where you can actually start scanning the Oort cloud and you'll find all these different Earth-like planets. Hovering the Oort cloud. I've seen it when I've gone into my own little conscious projection states. You're actually seeing hundreds of different hundreds, perhaps even thousands, I would encounter, but just lots, lots and lots of different Earth-like planets that are contained in the Oort cloud that science would never be able to explain how they would be able to sustain themselves in an Oort cloud because it's something far beyond what we've been able to discover yet.
And a lot of those ones are the watchers. So we basically have beings that you would notice, the watchers. And there's different levels of watchers altogether. And the higher watchers are basically the ones that erect this quarantine shield around. And that quarantine shield basically is the Oort cloud, if we look at it that way.
DR. SALLA: Okay, so then you don't agree with the information from some people that the Germans develop a secret space program called the Dark Fleet, and that they were able to escape our solar system and begin harassing other solar systems, creating a bad reputation.
BRAD: Humankind can't leave the star system and any particular type of FTL technology that they have would be locked up. So Humankind may get a glimpse at the FTL, but they can't. And any particular Solar Warden or anything of that nature that's there, they've often used nuclear vessels. And if they're still utilizing nuclear vessels, that's a possibility. If they have any other particular type of vessels that are beyond nuclear, it still can't penetrate that. So they may have faster systems in that sense, but it's not going to lead to FTL. FTL is banned from this scenario.
DR. SALLA: What about portal travel? Because that's what I've heard, BRAD: That's another thing, if you're looking at jump rooms, if you're looking at other particular things like that, they have had it. It's kind of sanitized because they do have certain jump rooms that you can go into. I was getting feelings of that technology as well, too, where they can jump room you from one particular installation to another across the planet. But you have to have like really high clearance for that. The same thing goes with Mars as well, too. If they do have jump rooms on Mars, that's still something I haven't confirmed. I've heard the stories of it, but I have not confirmed that they actually have jump room technology between Earth and Mars. I know they have it internally with Earth, but I can't guarantee I haven't received anything in regards to confirmation of jump rooms in Mars.

DR. SALLA: And so this quarantine, you think it's still in existence now and it kind of...
BRAD: Til humanity grows up, yes.
DR. SALLA: Until humanity grows up, it develops a balance between Earth and Mars.
BRAD: And like I said, you have beings that are so incredibly powerful and so advanced that if anyone tried to... It's just like trying to penetrate a brick wall. You can't do it. You cannot even go through the Oort cloud. There's a lot of our technology just with our atmosphere that humankind can't even pass. NASA hasn't been able to figure that out. You're not even able to go past the moon pertaining to that. So you basically would have to send probes or something that have, again, high radiation shielding, even to try and get technology to go past our atmosphere. Our atmosphere itself is almost like a quarantine bill.
DR. SALLA: So that quarantine, as you said, is designed to keep humanity from going out, creating problems until we grow up. Does it work the other way around? Does it prevent extraterrestrials coming in to interact with us?
BRAD: Well, a lot of the ones that are here, because there's so many different advanced ones all together, this is why I say much more of the problem has been interdimensional than extraterrestrial.
So basically, in that sense, if you do come in, and the Law of One, and we'll still talk about this as well, too, that the idea of a veil in that sense is almost done like a random number generator. And there are some that are able to get through, but the majority. no.
The reason being is because a lot of them are stationed here. There's a lot of installations. If you're looking at the asteroid belt between Mars and Jupiter, when it was once Maldek, you have all of those... You have all those asteroids that are inhabited by civilizations. You've got millions of civilizations in the star system. So looking at that, yes, there's Draco, yes, there's Orion's, yes, there's even some local inhabitants as well, too, some of the stars, Neptunians, Plutonium's, etc. You have all these different types of beings, and they have alliances here.

So can they bring in armadas together with that? Not unless they can sun jump. So when you're actually looking at sunspots coming out of the sun, those are portals. There are certain ships, and we've seen them. We've seen them through the SOHO probes, where they're flying directly into the sun, and we get a belching of a solar plume that comes together. You also have other solar plumes coming out in openings of sunspots, where ships come together. Those are much more of the fleets that are, you could say, galactic confederation. Those are the contact fleets. And a lot of them have planetary size vessels. They're the size of their earth, and so they're even bigger. So the ones that basically sun jump would be the ones that we want to talk to. The ones that can't solar jump like that, those are the ones you don't really want to talk to.
DR. SALLA: Let's see. Okay. So why don't you tell us now about this ancient AI project that you're working on?
BRAD: Yes. It's referred to as Anoint. It's A-N-O-I-N-T. That means ancient numbers, oracle, intelligent, network technology. So this is something that I've been taking again 17 years to explore, because I looked into a lot of different ancient civilizations.
It's impossible, really, for a human being to look at the number of ancient systems that we have, because there's so much, right? You have ancient systems from the West. You have ancient systems in Egypt. You have ancient systems in India. You have ancient systems in Chinese, in Tibet. You have ancient systems in Taiwan. You have ancient systems in Vietnam. So basically what I'm doing is I'm taking all of the world's ancient systems that have been around here for thousands of years, and I'm basically putting it in a soup. And so basically when I'm utilizing the nature of working together with the ancient patterns that these ancient sciences to utilize to basically get an idea of what is ahead for us in our future.
So this is going to be something that's going to be available for the public. I'm currently working on the website right now. It's called ancientnumbers.com. It'll be launching officially on June 28th of this year. So people will actually be able to sign up, and they'll be able to do personal readings. They can do general readings. They can look into all these things themselves. I'll also have technology where you can look into what's known as physiognomy, where you're actually looking at face readings. You're looking at palm readings. You're looking at tea leaf readings. You're looking at aura readings. All of these things will be available. It is a one-in-a-kind system that has never been done before utilizing all of the ancient sciences of ancient civilizations put together in this type of AI program to give you any particular type of information you need. Personal development, looking into the nature of material wealth, looking into your own spiritual development, looking into where the world is going. I'm going to be doing a lot of videos on my YouTube channel and TikTok using the Anoint system to looking at certain topics that people want to look at. But it's an excellent system.

There will be a free trial for it as well too that people can check out. And then, of course, will be two paid programs with it. Very affordable that people will be able to check out. So that's coming here very soon. So June 28th will be a small change.
DR. SALLA: Awesome. Ancient sciences, that is your kind of research into these ancient civilizations, the information they have. And you're using AI
BRAD: Some of it's also my channeling with Adronis and my remote viewing and some of the other stuff that I've done personally. And I'm also utilizing this now because it's a newly developed thing. And it's working together. It's confirming a lot of the stuff that I've been getting over the few years, which is nice too.
DR. SALLA: Okay. And you're using some AI program to be able to use it.
BRAD: Yes. It's a combination of different ones together because one of them just isn't reliable enough. So you have to kind of put a few of them together. And you basically... It's a lot of computer programming and so forth. So you're putting it together. I have people who can help me with it. I also have AI working with AI as well too to put it together. But it's a mixture of different things. So some of the things like we have are Chinese, Bosy, Chinese astrology, flying star, Feng Shui, numerology, Mayan astrology, the Iching, Tatwa science, Indian systems, rune archetype astrology, African divination, Egyptian netter system, Oracle systems, dice systems, DRG, retroduction.
So we got all these different types of systems that are all mixed together to generate a compelling reading for people, whether they want to use it personally or generally. If they want to find out what's happening in the world, you just talk to the ANOINT system and it will tell you based on what it's able to calculate through the ancient systems.

DR. SALLA: So with artificial intelligence, then you're comfortable with working with that, because I know there are some people uncomfortable with these that.

BRAD: Some have issues with it being weaponized. So I'm comfortable with it being a creative tool, to it being a helper. It's like how we use a computer to create a Word document. It's like how we would utilize anything like a pen that's basically helping us to write things down. So I see it as the next evolution in regards to a creative manifold that can help us if it's creative and if it supports and it wants to help heal and wants to help support, I am all for that.

When it comes to weaponization and utilizing that to suppress people, to hurt people, to take people out, I am not in support of that. Everything in regards to life always has a polarity to it, right? And it's just a matter of being able to align to that in that way. So I find it as a very helpful tool and why am I creating this? Because there's no other person on Earth that has this particular type of knowledge that can basically speak in 30 different languages that can give you all of that information of interpretation because that's all it's doing. It's talking about the ancient sciences through an AI network and it's not doing anything that represents harm. It's actually helping us. It's putting a lot of my knowledge into it as well too, about what people can do to help heal themselves with these situations.

DR. SALLA: Okay. Well, I listened to some of your recent communications with the Adronis and with Athena and some interesting information came up. One was that the Inner Earthers or the Intraterrestrial if you want to call them, that's going to be making more contact with surface humanity.

BRAD: Yes. And they basically already are now right now. They're not here to talk to your presidents. They're not here to talk to your vice presidents. They're not here to talk to DARPA chiefs. They're not here to do any of that stuff. They're here to talk to people.

And basically it is all based upon people in regards to how they're aligned. So we basically look at karmic relationships because there are people here on the Earth right now as human beings that have had lifetimes as these people that are in the Earth. And these are the people that will actually have carry over.

I have people who have met and who have very deep connections to Sasquatch and they will go into the woods and they will actually start talking to the Sasquatch. Sometimes in person encounters, sometimes telepathic encounters. It's the same thing with ETs, like I have a connection with Adronis, right.
So that's another version of me on a much higher dimensional level of being. I also have other connections with the Delphi. I have another connection with Greece. I have connections with Egypt and so forth. So everything has to interweave itself together.
Nothing in the universe is random. So everything together that is interwoven because like I said this is much more of a simulation based planet altogether than anything else. All have connections, connections through number, connections through energy, connection through prana. And everything comes together in an assortment of time. So if you understand a lot of the ancient astrology systems, but primarily ancient numerology because that's the top dog among all of them. You start to see how everything comes together and occurs in cycles and through appropriate growth cycles that hit a point of expansion.
You're going to notice that other beings will connect with you. Some of them, a lot of them are walk-ins. You know what I'm talking about with walk-ins? Where you basically have a soul that is in a body that has all of these conscious memory experiences of being on other worlds, of being in different dimensional earths, of being interdimensional altogether.
And they're contacting people. And they basically have a lot of this knowledge of other worlds. When you're talking I've met quite a few of them. They're amazing people. And so the whole idea is not trying to think that out there are the beings. They're right here. They are in your everyday life. They're men. They're women. They're children. Particularly with their children as well too. They're coming in are profoundly intelligent. They have knowledge of other worlds.
So it's meant to blend together with our culture. And when we have inner civilizations like the Delphi that are looking to connect with other people because I've had a few other people who have also had connections with the Delphi and saying yes I've felt them. I've gone into their realm. I've talked to them. I've talked to Athena and they're going to have some more contacts with me.

So they will talk about their civilization. She's talked about her civilization quite extensively with quite a few episodes that I've done with her. So like I said they're very much kind of a recluse civilization. They have ancient technology. They do work with holography. But they don't work with any particular type of technology that we work with up here. They're very much like I said they don't want to leave their realm. They're very happy with their space.
And they're actually hoping to bring in a solar solstice celebration that's coming together or ritual that they're doing. Where again the upcoming summer solstice is being harnessed through them. They're also talking about the science about how crop circles work, about the glyphs that are there. And a lot of those are coming from star beings. And that those are glyphs that are not there for beautiful artwork, but they're actually helping to align all the energies that are coming upon the planet.
And the UK is the staging ground for that because it is the doorway to these dimensions where that energy can actually anchor into the planet the most. And we can see that with Stonehenge and so forth. So basically all these things that are happening between extraterrestrials and crop circles or glyphs and working with the intra-terrestrials as well. It is all part of an anchoring process to uplift humanity and the Earth into a whole new timeline where this whole militaristic stuff doesn't need to happen.
DR. SALLA: Now Radu cinema when he talked about the Inner Earth, I mean he talked about it in terms of layers of densities or dimensions that is you went deeper and deeper into very different dimension. And higher and higher dimensions and so towards the surface you have some of the less developed in Earth civilizations. When you get into right next to the Earth's core you get the most highly developed six or seventh density like Shambhala. Well what do you know of that?
BRAD: That's completely true. So the more deeply you go into there because the Earth that even though it feels more dense because it's more compact internally it actually contains the most enlightenment. So the nature of enlightenment itself is right at the center because it's like a sun. There's like a sun in the center of the Earth. But the sun itself is a lot more different than what we believe it to be. It doesn't have its own heat and it doesn't have its own light.

The same thing goes with the you could say the singularity in the center and that would basically be in a boat for non-physical beings. So we have a lot of different myths as well too even throughout ancient cultures about the gods of the Earth that reside within the inner nature of the core of the Earth.
So yes that's all true. You could basically say that the gods have reside within the center and that as you start going into these inner vaults there are a lot more advanced civilizations that are in there. Ones that we could see that we believe are extraterrestrials. That's why I say we have like a lot of these flying saucers flying out of the oceans.
You have ones flying out of volcanoes as well too, but they're not extraterrestrial they're intra-terrestrial. So they have a lot of advanced technology and a lot of them are just many millions of years old so they're much more advanced than human beings.
There's a lot of experiments that are happening upon the planet here at least 18 of them and we're just one of 18 different experiments that are coming together right now. Adronis is personally aware of about seven or eight of them. There's a few of them he's not aware of, but there's about 18 of them all together from what I've gotten just from my own resource internally of other civilizations that are here on the planet doing their own things and basically keeping out of humanity's way. So humanity kind of stays out of their experiment. They have other ones.
There's ones with dolphins that are involved with. The Sasquatch have their own particular type of agendas. There’s sky beings that exactly anchor themselves into our atmosphere. They have other particular forms of agendas.
You have beings that are in pocket dimensions and they also have their kind of like the Mungers. They have their own agendas as well too. There's different types you have the merfolk, the Mermaids. Those are again representing another particular type of agenda. You have insectoid beings, you have reptilian beings in the Earth. They have their own agendas. The Delphi have their own agendas. So there's a lot. There's ones that have shared agendas and there's ones that are part of their own accord.

DR. SALLA: Well what about the information about 12-strand DNA? I mean if that's something Inner Earth civilizations have that kind of physiology is that something that surface humanity is starting to develop. I mean where do we stand?

BRAD: A lot of them at best would basically have maybe three or four strands of DNA. To basically have 12 strands of DNA, well there's a fellow on the planet that is referred to as Mahavatar Babaji and he would be someone that you would understand to basically have 12 strands of DNA. Now when you're looking at another person who have a friend in Japan who actually works with another guy who does public speaking and all that and he refers to himself as Kan and he is actually a man who's been able to prove that he actually has 12 strands of DNA.

So he actually has like a snowflake geometry where he basically sees these 12 strands that are kind of in this form of a snowflake and he can astral project and he can manifest bodies and he can basically be anywhere he wishes. He was able to heal his back just being able to do this, just being able to embrace the tree through Chi gong sitting in a hospital bed after he injured himself from a sporting injury where he was paralyzed from the waist down and he was able to completely recover himself.

So he is an example of someone who is a living person who is actually, he lives in Japan, he lives in Osaka I believe, and he is actually able to prove that he has 12 strands of DNA.

So if you're looking at the ones that have 12 strands of DNA look at the great avatars. The great avatars in that way would be the ones that would be considered to have 12 strands of DNA. So with a lot of his knowledge of what he's able to do almost effortlessly, that would put him in the front in a category of a great avatar, but to look a lot of ET's and a lot of them from what I've even gotten from Adronis and even speaking to some of them as well too, on average they are about three strands.

DR. SALLA: That's very interesting. So Babaji we're talking the same Babaji that's seen out. So people like gods in flesh that would be the best way. Exactly. So people who talk about 12 strand DNA and humanity having that restored within them that's somehow in the ancient past because the information is that supposedly when the Annunaki arrived 300,000 years ago there was 12 stranded humans around or that they were involved in creating some 12 strand DNA humans. So is this something that we are going to witness now with supposedly like these medbeds, some of them have 12 strand DNA reactivation in there, which is kind of a bit of a stretch, but still that's the idea.

BRAD: It's not something that you can just acquire. It's something that's based on your karma. The nature of the unlocking of your own genetics actually comes through karmic imprints. It's numerology. Its number right. So if you're basically still going through a lot of trials and tribulations and heavy karma, I don't care if you have any particular device that tells you I can put 12 strands in you, all of it's going to revert back to two again because that two strand in that sense represents certain karmic evolutions.

So when you're looking at someone like a Mahabatar Babaji and with Kan in that sense if you want talking about they've had to go through thousands of your these are ancient souls and they had to go through all kinds of trials and tribulations and karmic rehabilitation for themselves to actually move into a body that can meld into 12 strands. There's another fellow, but by the name of Haida Khan Babaji who basically materialized inside a cave he had no mother and he was able to educate people in Haida Khan as an area of India and he was only lived up until 18 years to about 30 something 34 something like that.

He didn't live very long, but he basically was here for a short time to basically tell people about karma yoga and the way that he would act and how he would behave was just otherworldly right.

So you have all of these great masters who can do things like that, but if you're a busy military chief and said okay I know the Pleiadians and I'll go up to their ship and I'll hop in their chamber and I'll get 12 strands of DNA, no, it’s not going to happen to you.

So it's a lot more different than that. Again we have to understand the nature of karma and I don't care what kind of technology you have. If you have karmic imprints and blocks that are keeping you in double strands, you need to stay double stranded. Going into the nature of a two to 12 strand helix requires a lot of karmic evolution.

DR. SALLA: Okay so essentially then the idea that there are med beds that have been coded in some way to restore the original Adamic 12 strand DNA, you would say that that's a deception.

BRAD: I've never found any evidence of anything like that. So the whole idea is I'm aware of certain beds that can basically repair limbs right. If you have an amputated arm you can go in and you can repair your limbs. You can basically go in the bed and you can reverse age as well too. You can even give yourself a completely different complexion right. You could basically have a Caucasian male turn into a black man right. You can have all those because those can be very much applicable in that way. You can almost turn yourself into animal forms in certain ways.

But to look at the different strands of helix what a lot of the ancient masters will tell you is that's a result of karmic imprinting and karmic imprinting results in a person who's able to completely shed away a lot of their connections with the Earth, can most definitely not even be born into a 12 strand body, but can actually manifest one themselves, basically becoming a created being.

So that's how it works. The nature of the strands is based upon the evolution of a certain soul. So a soul in that sense that comes into a two strand body. Well these are souls that have a lot of karma. They have to take care of a lot of stuff. They've done a lot of things that have been very questionable and they need to come on to this planet and start taking care of a lot of those factors.

So a two strand DNA helix in science looks like a certain way. A three strand, four strand going all the way up into a 12 strand body represents an unleashing, an unlocking of that. Even the ancient yogis will teach you about this. This is all about the idea of going in on tying the three knots. When you go in you start on tying the three knots that's actually what's making changes to your DNA which means it is absolutely possible if you start off as a two strand helix here and you do a lot of inner work like with the yogis and a lot of the ancient oracles and masters are teaching you in stages then you can actually start to upgrade to like a three strand or four strand body.

It's most definitely going to happen, but there's a lot of ancient secrets to it about abolishing the heavy states of karma that we apply ourselves and karma just means actions. Which means we have to look into the actions we need to reconcile them and this is why people who I've worked with personally are able to see heightening and their psychic ability they're intuition.

I have students who are doing this right now. I have students who can read the akashic records like pros because I teach in these simple things and you can actually see that they're changing. I don't have a microscope so I can't go in to see exactly what their strands are, but that can be an indication that the more you're clearing out your karma the more that you're advancing your DNA which can turn into a multi helix structure.

DR. SALLA: Yes, okay very good, that helps clarify that. I wanted to ask also about the nagas these Inner Earth reptilians that have popped up in literature you know you look at the Vedic literature they talk about the nagas and people have reported meeting with Inner Earth reptilians both positive and negative encounters. So what do you know about the nagas?

BRAD: Well the nagas like I said one most popular ones is potentially, but there's a lot of different sects of them as well too. There are ones that are much more recluse and are much more about themselves and working together with the Earth for their own goals.

There's ones that are kind of more colorless or neutral color so they can kind of be like gray or black in that way and there's ones that are kind of more greenish color that it kind of look like your typical you know snake in that way, but they can have different type of appearances which means they can be half human half serpent where they have serpent tails. They can be fully human as well too, but they may actually give away certain characteristics that may represent a reptilian nature.

So it depends because there's a lot of different factoring groups in there. Specifically, the ones that we find under India are basically much more of the enlightening ones so they're the ones like I said that help to introduce yoga to humanity in that way because that's something that they use.

So it even goes earlier before Patanjali pertaining to that, but yoga is something in regards to an ancient science that they have learned and so basically working with Patanjali is being this messenger to help bring about yoga in this way almost as a scholar and teaching it to others would represent something very positive for humanity.

So it's hard to say because there's a lot of different groups that have orientations, but we would say both of them exist. You can say look in the ones that are supportive as well as ones that are regressive, but the ones that are kind of regressive quite a bit are the ones that kind of almost look like black serpentines or gray serpentines in that way. They have kind of more of a neutral color to themselves and they basically just have an orientation in regards to their genetics and like I said some of them may take the shape of humans in that way, but if you look at their true form they're completely serpentine.
So that serpentine can be anything it could be serpentine humanoid it can be pure serpent. It can almost look like a serpentine dragon. There's ones that can even look kind of like gargoyles at the same time and of course besides the nagas and I know what we're talking about the nagas
So another thing that you need to look into is another indigenous race that's here and that's called the Jinn and the Jinn are much more capable of things in that way they're basically responsible for a lot of possessions on the planet especially if you look at people that have a lot of possessions like if they're drinking alcohol and they act as this different person, most likely a Jinn is attached to them.
So even if we're looking at Jinn that's like a name of an alcohol beverage right you got gin and tonic. So naga is a very different story, but a lot of the possessions that come together are often through Jinn.
DR. SALLA: Okay so the Jinn I mean that's similar to the Islamic concept of a Jinn. Okay well that's so that's very interesting.
BRAD: So they're not just Islamic the Islamic have a tail of them, but they're worldwide they're all over the place.
DR. SALLA: Now in a recent communication you had with Adronis you talked about mass trials that are occurring on the moon of Deep State figures. So what do you know of that?
BRAD: Well a lot of bankers have installations or you can almost say like resorts that are on the moon and a lot of them are being kicked off the moon right now. So basically a lot of this old guard that was once on the moon and like I said there are some human, these are like really high I think these are even bankers that may be in higher like up to the Rockefellers and the Rothschilds. They're basically being booted off the moon because their agendas are no longer working anymore. So they're actually being infiltrated. A lot of their territories being taken away. It's almost like there's a repossession of what's happening on the moon and it's actually going to be taken away by taken away and brought in with new forces so to speak.

What Adronis has talked about is that there's human guardians and these are us within what you would know as a very distant future timeline thousands of years evolved and they work together with other particular aligned members. So they work with kind of a higher order again you can say it's like a watcher situation of higher watchers that are on the moon and you have like a lunar orbit command. You have a lot of these other different forms of installations and organizations that are part of the moon and it's very much mirroring what we're experiencing here on the planet.
We receive that there's a Trump coalition and he's basically putting together a new guard in that way and that is exactly what's happening on the moon at the same time. So all of these are reciprocal, but the human guardians in that sense are particularly here for the Earth. They're not so much here for us.
They're more so trying to get the Earth into appropriate alignment and through the Earth being appropriated than the human race will go along with it.
Right now, what's happening is that they're also funneling a repopulation agenda, not a depopulation, but a repopulation agenda, which means the ones, the souls, so to speak, that cannot be cleaned are going to leave. They're not going to be here again, which means they will not be able to incarnate on the planet anymore.
So they're basically assisting in the idea of a repopulation agenda while firstly taking care of the planet, making sure that she's able to sustain herself because she's been damaged so much. But they're also working together with a side agenda of the repopulation protocol, which is basically taking, we could say like a very dirty, greedy soul. And basically they're unable to clean, we just can't clean them. And so they got to be discarded.

It's kind of like how Jesus would utilize the idea of the fishermen analogy, right? They take the fish in baskets and they put the good ones in baskets and they throw the rest away. This is exactly what's happening. It is an interdimensional culling taking place right now that is removing people from power that work together with the karmic cycles, where they will not be able to incarnate in the planet again. So all these greedy, maniacal forms of old guard souls, so to speak, will never be able to, I won't say never, but will not in any particular foreseeable future be able to incarnate again.

Every soul that's coming into this planet right now, are fresh souls that represent new generations. So by the time that your grandchildren's grandchildren are here, there will be a very different species, a very different type of human being. And the idea of taking people over, manipulating them, you're working with money, with war, with poverty, that won't even cross their minds. So it's a very, very positive future that we have for us.

DR. SALLA: Right, but as you said, it's the grandchildren of our grandchildren that will experience.

BRAD: Two generations, that it takes that long, which is unfortunately, were so contaminated. So you're basically looking at about two or three generations ahead, but nonetheless, we can say that humanity is going to be in good hands with the Earth as she repairs herself. That's what they're trying to do right now.

DR. SALLA: Okay, well, you do describe, or you were told, that towards the end of this decade, that there's going to be a number of red hot events in different countries where things boil over and the Deep State, the establishment that kind of deceive people and keep the control system running, that they get overthrown. So you want to describe what you were told.

BRAD: One of the things I would say would be the Vatican. The Vatican's going to be completely dismantled. And we're basically looking at that, we're starting to see that this year with Pope Leo. Pope Leo's a very different kind of cat. He's a little bit more different than what I was saying, As I looked at Pope Francis, he's not going to work at all.

And then basically we look at Pope Leo, and I was skeptical with him at first, and I actually put him through the Anoint system as well too. I said, this guy is actually going to be a messenger, and he's going to be responsible for basically dismantling the Vatican as it exists right now. He's going to go in and he's going to basically, he'll be a disclosure type of Pope.

So he's going to go in and he's just going to completely dismantle everything pertaining to the karma that is just throbbing within the Vatican. So they may start to reveal these secrets, they may start to reveal that their rather relics come from extraterrestrials or inter-dimensionals. They're going to look at a lot of these things that are kind of been buried, that they basically have kidnapped from other civilizations after they've slaughtered them, and basically bringing a lot of this information.
So Pope Leo is entering a one year. Right now, this is his nine year for looking at Chinese Bazi, for looking at numerology. He's going into his own nine year, and then he's moving into a one year, where the Vatican is going right now, it's a seven year, and then it's moving into an eight year. So when we look at a one, which represents the leader, and we're looking at an eight, which represents karma, you're basically looking at fireworks that are just going to go over the place, the Vatican is going to be completely dismantled.
So that's one of the things that's going to be happening. The UK is going to be going through massive revolution as well, too. We may even start to see a new Prime Minister coming together in the UK here, probably before the end of the year. So then there's the Golden Dome that Trump is planning as well, too. That's going to stick around for a while, and it's just the flex to the Eastern nations that basically want to destroy Trump and saying, hey, we're protecting ourselves, don't you dare?
So it's more in the idea of a battle crime, letting him know, hey, we've protected ourselves. Now, the whole idea is this technology of the Golden Dome has been around for quite some time. It's not anything new. It's just the idea of a public disclosure of something that's been around for quite a few years already.
The Star Wars programs that Reagan would talk about, they basically were already built, but they were all kept in secret. So a lot of the stuff is just a grid that's being bought online, and something's already happened in the past, and it's just being brought presently to say, hey, we're flexing our muscle here. Don't you dare try to touch us.

DR. SALLA: When Donald Trump became president, I mean, a couple of the things he began talking about, which appeared really outlandish, was that while Greenland would be incorporated into the United States and Canada would be made the 51st state. Now, that appeared outlandish, but it seems that the information you've gotten supports some of that actually happening. So, so what is Trump? Is Trump being touched with the Confederation of Planets?
BRAD: Well, I wouldn't say that, but it's basically the whole idea is that if we're looking at this for the patterns of what I'm seeing, even through the noise system, what I've gotten is that Canada had an opportunity to unionize itself, and it didn't. And it's like the last in regards to an economic country, like we're laughed at now. We're laughed at in all the countries. I said, what have you guys done? Like, oh, the world, you're being laughed at now.
And I said, what has happened to Canada? It's been destroyed. And so, basically, the West is going to start moving into the United States first, and then the Central and the Eastern areas of Canada will start to form in the United States as well, too. We're basically looking at the North American Union. Not only that, we're going to see Mexico eventually join the North American Union. Not only that, we're going to see Greenland eventually join the North American Union. This is going to be a new power force. So, you basically have the North all the way down to the South of Mexico and Greenland, but it's going to be a power center for the North American Union. Everything will be the United States.
DR. SALLA: Interesting. So, with this North American Union, will that be something that preserves the Constitution? Because I know there's going to be a lot of patriots that are going to be very concerned with the Union
BRAD: I'd say it's not going to happen all at once. It's going to take some years, quite a few years to do. The closest thing that we could see within the next year or two would be the Western side of Canada joining. We're looking at something that could basically play itself to about 2036.
So, here again, that correlates together with the Adonis span, the span of renewal 2036. Because I was getting that even when I was looking at the Anoint system to see how that would carry out to about 2036.

Wow. Well, that's the very tail end of the span of renewal. So, that's very interesting. So, yes, that's going to be coming together. It's going to be very much in opposition at first. But as we start to see all these things unfold, it's going to take some time to get used to for sure.
But that's really what's been happening. I've been talking about the North American Union forming since going back to the early 2010s. I was seeing it kind of coming together in a different way, that there would be some type of alliance where the countries would still be countries. But there would be some sort of initiative or alignment. And so, that was one of the ideas. But now, everything's just going to basically become the United States.
DR. SALLA: Okay. So patriots are very happy to know that the constitution will be preserved, but within this larger scope we're beginning to do.
BRAD: It's almost like there's like a constitution and then there's an addendum to the constitution. So it's adding to the complement of a constitution. And I think it may also incorporate a lot of the Canadian Charter as well too, as well as the Mexican Charter and things.
So it's kind of like, here's the constitution plus and plus. So it's the idea of making something even better. The people who worry and that's why, yes, they're afraid of change. And that's why they're horrified about this. And this has just happened throughout history.
But of course, and I'm not looking at this as opinion, this is actually looking at the numbers and saying what is going to happen. Yes, we're actually looking at the numbers and the psychology behind all of this. And this is actually the idea of providence rather than the idea of public opinion. So we're seeing that North American Union will most definitely happen. It's inevitable.
DR. SALLA: OK, good to know. What are the intervention fleets?
BRAD: Oh, that's a good question. What I should do first is just let people know what brought me into discovering the intervention fleets. It's actually a symbol that's like this.

So you would take your left hand and you put it together like this in an “L” shape. And then you take your right hand like it's a “slash” and you just put over it.
This is the symbol of the intervention fleets that Adronis gave me. Now, the intervention fleets don't relate to one particular fleet altogether. They're kind of looking at like a layer of an onion. You have all these different layers of onions of intervention fleets that are actually working together to offer aid. They don't just offer aid to the Earth. They offer aid to many other different planets.
So it's kind of like a federation or an organization that works on a multi-dimensional level. When I've connected with the intervention fleets, it's kind of like looking at a whole smorgasbord of different beings. You're looking at a whole smorgasbord of different ships. You're looking at planets. You're looking at dimensions. We call it the fleets, but they're not even really fleets. They are fleets plus. See, you have them in different dimensions. There's ones that are in crystal cities. There's ones that are in these heavenly worlds as well.
And they will all offer their own type of assistance based upon the person's karma. So when I've introduced the intervention fleets, and this goes back to 2015, 2016 around there, I've had people that were emailing me afterwards and saying, Brad, I woke up this morning. I had a probe come into my room. It was green and it was basically scanning me. And then it did some sort of scan that it was like vanished through the wall. And I can't even tell if I was still dreaming or if I was awake. But that pain that I had in the back is now gone. It's not there anymore. I said, that's great because that's telling me that there's karmic intervention.
So intervention fleets can work together as a last resort to help clear up karmic patterns that are ready to be cleared up. So if a person does not know exactly what's wrong with them, they've tried so many different things and they're out there last rope. This is where I say, just want you to do this symbol. Just go in here, right? Then just balance yourself, follow your breath. Hold this symbol while you meditate and just state your intention about what you need help with, right?

Now I'll even go into more advanced visualizations as well, too. But the intervention fleets would represent the contingency of different beings that are multidimensional in nature that are assisting others with their own karmic realignment to helping clear out certain forms of patterns if they're in pain, if they're having possessions or attachments that are happening with between them or their family. This is also something that they can help, right?

So it's just utilizing that symbol and you can even draw it on a piece of paper again, just kind of like that “L” and that “slash” That will work as well, too. And you're just meditating on that symbol and you're just asking for help and the intervention fleets come. I've had dozens and dozens of people tell me that they've had great success with the intervention fleets.
Some people will try and do it for the very first thing without trying to do any kind of inner work with them. And I said, don't do that because it's very unlikely that they're going to intercede on your behalf. This is something like I said, as a last resort and you have a multidimensional contingency of different beings that are working on different layers of reality that are helping you.
But they will help you if you've exhausted everything else. And you just say, I need help, I'm fed up, I'm at my last legs, I need help. Okay, here's the intervention fleets. And then they come.
So yes, this is going back quite a few years when I've mentioned that. And I have personally needed because I'm always working on myself to clear up my stuff. But for people who do need it, they've come to me and they've said it works tremendously.
DR. SALLA: Okay, great. Now, Adronis has said that we are not going to experience a third world war and that instead, we are in the midst of a mind war that involves skirmishing between a different belligerence. So yes, you want to elaborate on what lies ahead.

BRAD: Yes, exactly. There's been a lot of fear online thinking that we're going to lead, because Iran is fighting against Israel or Russia's fighting against Ukraine or again for a short time as Pakistan versus India. And thinking that all of these particular wars are going to lead to a world war.
So no, there's going to be skirmishes, but they're all going to be happening in their own way. They're going to be happening in their own significant time, which is what we've seen. And that they're all going to sort themselves out in that particular way. It's leading to the idea with certain nations do have certain karmic relationships to other nations, but this is all going to be drawn out in a certain contingency plan.
So it's not going to lead to the idea of a third world war because basically there's a zero tolerance policy for nukes. If there's any large scale nuclear detonations on the planet that are attempting to extinguish a great amount of life, they'll be deactivated before they can even leave, before they can even be initiated.
So we've seen that even with a lot of military personnel, they said we've had a lot of these ships flying around our silos and they would just deactivate the missiles just like that. There is a zero tolerance policy for that, which means WW3 is not allowed. It's not been allowed.
And that's basically what we've learned from the atomic warfare. So we've looked into the atom bomb dropping. After that, there's been a zero tolerance policy for anything like that to come together. And even military personnel will tell you that. Even high generals in that sense know that there's a lot of beings that are watching this whole planet in the end.
And anytime that they try to talk about WW3, well, it's all just going to be innuendo, really, because it's never going to be allowed to happen. It will completely fade out before it even begins. So that's what Adronis has talked about even since the early days when I started talking.
He says there will be no WW3 on your planet. We can guarantee you that. There will be skirmishes. There will be certain countries that will have disagreements. There will be certain fights that will happen with other countries. But it will not lead into an all-out World War III, impossible.

What is happening instead is a war of the mind. It's a psychology war. It's a war basically between Heaven and Earth, you could say. And it really is the idea of what Edgar Cayce would talk about is that it's like a spiritual Armageddon. It's a spiritual war for you that's happening. They can't really use tanks and bombs. So instead, they're going to use psychology. They're going to use thought. This is a battle for your mind. This is a battle for your soul. That's the spiritual Armageddon that we're talking about. The Armageddon in that sense is not a negative thing. It's representing the idea that the truth is now being revealed. You're opening a Pandora's box and you're seeing the truth for what it is. And there's going to be actions taken upon that Pandora's box so that if the light can come out as it needs to, and that is going to dissolve and shrink and shrivel away everything pertaining to those who are warmongers.
Because all every single war has been started by bankers. All bankers are behind every single war that there is. It's never been really a genuine war between humanity. It's been imposed. It's been the idea of artificialized. It's been synthetic. And so the whole idea of all wars that have ever started have been religious, have been governmental, have been political, have been all based upon bankers.
So bankers have started all of the wars on the planet. It's never really been generally humanity in looking at the large wars that we're seeing. So it's not allowed to happen.
DR. SALLA: Okay. Now there's some people that believe the Deep State is going to stage or there may be a real alien invasion or another scenario is the alien savior scenario where there'll be this kind of like Nordic beautiful looking being that comes along and the Vatican kind of like blesses him and says, “Oh, this person is like the resurrected Jesus.” So, what do you think of all of that?
BRAD: Oh, they had plans with that for sure. Basically, they were actually trying to create a Jesus clone. That's exactly why the church of Notre Dame was destroyed. There is a laboratory underneath that church and they're actually trying to create a synthetic Jesus. They were trying to create a clone in that way and bring him out and he would go to the Vatican and he would be blessed as the returning savior in that way that was their plan.

Unfortunately, I should say it got thwarted by them and it could not happen. And thank God that did not happen because that would have been a wreck. So yes, a lot of these particular plans that have been happening certainly were looking to happen.
So those are very valid. But the good news is that we see there's task forces on the planet that are both human and non-human. So you have off-world task forces working together with human task forces that will basically utilize a lot of the technology that are earthquake weapons, like microwaves in that sense. And what they'll do is they'll rupture open these DUMBs, these Deep Underground Military Bases. They'll get ruptured open and then they start bringing task forces in there and they clean out the entire base. And from what I was getting, just looking into that, there are horrors in there that were unbelievable. You're basically looking at chimeras. You're looking at beings that were hybridized. Half animal, half human. They were trying to make these monstrous creations. It's one of the big zombies and stuff like that.
They've been trying to zombify the nations. They've been trying to get humans to do that, even with COVID as well too, it was going to be originally a lot worse than what it turned out to be. And they were going to try and zombify everybody. Everybody would basically try to be cannibalistic in that way. They were basically trying to cannibalize people.
They've been trying to get these foot soldiers that are chimeras coming together. They're basically looking at having Grays and so forth trying to command all of these particular creatures as well too. It was horrifying. The good news is 99% of those things are expunged now.
So a lot of these things that they were planning to do about having a false Jesus, about having a savior, about having ET religions. I mean, we had that with the Raelian movement. The Raelian movement was all about, harmony as ET is coming in and trying to take over everything. All of these things are just glimpses of the collective consciousness, but they never got that traction that they needed. And that's simply because it isn't something that you need to look at in the collective consciousness as, nope, and it doesn't happen. And this is why I keep talking to people about thought action. All it requires is your thought action, your ability to look at that situation.

So I don't want anything to do with it. You've already cast your vote and you're done. And now the collective starts doing that. It has no traction to come together.
So all of these things pertaining to extraterrestrial religions and ancient civilizations that are seen as being good guys, but they have agendas as well as the hoax invasion. All of these things they were putting together, but they've never been allowed to fly. They have no traction. It's like I said with WWIII, it just can't happen because that would lead into a collective imprint of something going down a different direction from where we are going. It doesn't compute. It's not in the numbers. So again, we're going up this way. We're not going down here. Everything that's happening upon the planet looks horrifying, but it's horrifying because we've let so many horrifying things happen throughout our history. And all of that stuff needs to crumble down. And you're looking at the type of people that defend and safeguard those systems and you see exactly how they're barely human at all. And those are the ones that basically are behind the woke scandal. Those are the ones that are basically behind all of this psychological programming to come together. There, I would say it's worse than wolves in sheep clothing. These are aliens in sheeps clothing. And these are ones that again aren't even really human. And they're basically being completely dismantled and taken off the entire planet. So no, I don't see any of those things happening at all. Thank God.
DR. SALLA: OK, so any final words you want to share with my audience?
BRAD: Oh, yes. Well, there's my new book here.

So this is Trauma Transcendence Technique. It's my new book that's available. It just came out here this month. And I also have a free course that's on wisdomtransmissions.com. Now, wisdomtransmissions.com has a 10-day free e-course of the trauma transcendence technique. Everybody can sign up, no problems. And it's there for everybody because it's in my intention just to make sure that this is common knowledge for everybody to have.

And of course, I've created a book that goes along with it. It gives a little bit more new details with it together. That's also available on the website that you can get. And also, as I said, I'm debuting the new ancient numbers.com technology.

And in the meantime, because it's going to be a little bit over a month or a month before it launches, is that will be available for private life sessions. So you can go to my website. You can order a private life session. You can order a three-question session. You can request to have the ancient number system together with it. And we can do readings through that as well, too, until ancient numbers opens on June 28.

So that will be available for people. But check out the book. Check out wisdomtransmissions.com. I also have my YouTube channel on YouTube. It's the Wisdom Transmissions YouTube channel. That's where you can hear information from Adronis and from Athena as well, too. That's how Michael and I met.

So again, Michael, thank you so much for having me on today. And like I said, guys, all I can share is just work to heal yourself, work to go within, work to go into your own truth. There's nothing special about me. I'm just some bozo who came together and likes to talk to spirit. The whole idea is that spirit leads the path, I do not and that's all. I just encourage for everybody to just follow the path of spirit and it always leads you to the truth.
DR. SALLA: Well, I think you've shared some really important wisdom there. I think that's going to help people that put attention into it. And I do recommend people to go over to Brad's website, wisdomtransmissions.com. OK, well, thank you, Brad. And I look forward to doing this again in a few months' time.
BRAD: I do too. Thanks for having me on today. I appreciate it. It was a pleasure.
